

HOT SPRINGS

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Hot Springs, Va., January 20.—Hot Springs has had the opportunity this winter of experiencing an old-time January thaw as New Englanders used to talk about, for a springlike sun has dissipated rapidly the eight inches of snow that fell during the cold snap. Now that 1900 can natives remember such a snowfall at the Springs, and then it froze and solidly that the excellent golf played on the links is still talked about by those who enjoyed it, and love to reminisce.

With warmer weather the improvements to the golf course are moving on to completion. They include, with the breaking of three new holes, the lengthening of the links back of Sunset Hill toward the Hot Springs Gap and return, so that this year the confusion which has sometimes been felt at the seventeenth and eighteenth holes will be avoided.

Dr. Guy Hinsdale, secretary of the American Climatological Association, returned to-night from a week's stay in Philadelphia, where he has been delivering a course of lectures before the students of the Medical College of the University of Pennsylvania on "Climatology in Relation to Disease."
